Huntington, West Virginia --- The Cabell County Headquarters of the "Keep Nick Rahall in Congress Committee" will kick off a final push to the last two weeks of the Primary Election Campaign, with a gathering on Saturday, April 22 at noon. The headquarters is located at 426 8th Street in Huntington.

Fourth District Congressman Nick J. Rahall and his wife and two children will be on hand to greet their many friends and supporters in the Cabell and Wayne County areas.

"I have a good feeling about this area of the Fourth District," Rahall said, "from my visits in Cabell and Wayne Counties, I believe we will do very well here on May 9." Rahall is seeking reelection to his 4th District seat in the United States House of Representatives. In 1976, Congressman Rahall won both Cabell and Wayne Counties in a tough three-way contest.

Congressman Rahall has also released the names of his two top campaign committee posts in Cabell County. Two prominent Huntington residents, Lafe Chafin and Ben Bagby will co-chair the Rahall Campaign in the area.

Rahall stated he was very pleased to have both of these fine men assisting on his re-election effort.
