RAHALL ELECTED PRESIDENT OF STATE SOCIETY

Washington D.C. --- The West Virginia Society of Washington D.C. has elected 4th District Congressman Nick J. Rahall, II, as its new president for 1983-84.

The first major event of the State Society that Rahall will preside over is the June 18, West Virginia Son and Daughter Banquet.

Charles Peters, a native of Charleston and currently editor of the Washington Monthly; and First District Circuit Judge Callie Tsapis, will be honored as "Son and Daughter of the Year" at this event.

Congressman Rahall, a native of Beckley, has served in the United States House of Representatives since his election in 1976. Rahall is currently the dean of the West Virginia Delegation in the House of Representatives.
