

tape for week of Oct. 31

This is Congressman Nick Rahall.

Millions of teen agers are already abusers and many more are threatened by drugs and alcohol.

On November 2 and 9, public television will broadcast "The Chemical People", a two-part series especially designed to bring concerned parents and citizens together and offer them guidelines for helping our young people.

In West Virginia, "The Chemical People" program will be broadcast on: WSWP in Beckley, WPBY in Huntington, and WWVU in Morgantown.

I would like to urge parents across the State to seize the opportunity "The Chemical People" project presents. Never has such a massive assault been launched ~~xxxxxx~~ to educate our communities about young people and drugs. This is one battle America cannot afford to lose.

This is your Congressman, Nick Rahall.
