Rahall Announces Grant to Marshall

Washington, D.C. -- Fourth District Rep. Nick Rahall (D-WV) today announced that Marshall University has been awarded a grant by the National Council on U.S.-Arab Relations to support two teacher training workshops on "Teaching About the Arab World". The grant of $4,765, is available upon Marshall's request.

"I am pleased to see this action by the National Council," Rep. Rahall said. "They first made contact with Marshall University when they visited here with the delegation of Saudi Arabian businessmen I brought to Marshall this past spring. They were very impressed by the campus and the staff at the university and thought it would be the ideal place to present these workshops." The grant will be administered through the Political Science Department at Marshall, which has been in contact with the Washington, D.C. - based National Council on U.S.-Arab Relations.

"In these tough times of Gramm-Rudman, it is very encouraging to me to see private organizations attempting to fill the void of federal aid left through these budget cuts. I commend the National Council for their action and hope that other organizations will follow their lead," Rep. Rahall observed.

Dear Clair:

I am pleased to inform you that the National Council's Board of Directors recently approved a $4,765 grant to Marshall University in support of two teacher training workshops on "Teaching About the Arab World." Please inform us as to when you need the funds sent. The Board stipulated that the $1,373 for the second speaker's expenses be capped at $650 with the difference used to acquire teacher packet materials.

Enclosed are two copies of the Council's "Terms of Grant" form. Please return one signed copy to Gregory McCarthy here at the National Council and retain the other for your records. An important stipulation of the form is that grantees submit a written report to the Council on the "manner in which the funds are spent and the progress made in accomplishing the purpose of the grant project." In order to satisfy IRS requirements, the Council asks that this report include receipts, when possible, for monies spent.

At your earliest convenience we would appreciate receiving copies of any reports or related written material which will enable us to evaluate the effectiveness of the workshops. We would also appreciate a copy of any reports or related written material distributed to each participant and, if possible, a mailing list of all those in attendance.

With best wishes for successful workshops.

Sincerely,

John Duke Anthony
President
