RAHALL RECEIVES TOP RATINGS AMONG WEST VIRGINIA DELEGATION

Washington, D.C. -- Fourth District Rep. Nick Rahall (D-WV) has received top ratings among the West Virginia delegation to the U.S. House of Representatives from many different groups during the First Session of the 99th Congress.

"I am very pleased that so many different groups, all representing different points view, have recognized the effort I have made to keep the concerns of all of the citizens I represent foremost in my mind," Rep. Rahall observed. "It is this sort of broad support which enables me to work more effectively for the good of the people of West Virginia."

Rep. Rahall received the highest marks among the delegation from the Consumer Federation of America, The National Council of Senior Citizens, The National Education Association, NETWORK (A Catholic Social Justice Lobby), The American Federation of Government Employees, The National Association of Letter Carriers, and the National Association of Postal Supervisors. Rahall received perfect 100% ratings from the National Education Association, NETWORK, and The National Council of Senior Citizens.

"The wide spectrum of people represented by these groups is very encouraging to me," Rep. Rahall said. "They represent a sizeable portion of the backbone of my constituency and it is gratifying to note that I am representing their concerns in Washington as they have elected me to do."
