RAHALL SAYS STATE TO RECEIVE EPA FUNDS

WASHINGTON - The State of West Virginia is due to receive over one million dollars from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency to combat water pollution according to Rep. Nick Rahall (D-W.Va.)

Rahall said the West Virginia Department of Resources has been granted $1,105,608 by the EPA in accordance with Title II of the Clean Water Act and are to be used statewide.

"It is of vital importance that we preserve our environment for ourselves and future generations," Rahall said. "This funding was made possible by the Clean Water Act which was vetoed earlier this year by the Administration. A clear sign that not everyone shares the concern of preserving our land."

Rahall also announced that the EPA has awarded the Town of Ceredo in Wayne County, $1,812,410 for the design and construction of a grinder collection system with two new lift stations and new sewer main.

The Ceredo grant was also authorized by Title II of the Clean Water Act.
