RAHALL SETS W. VA. APPEARANCES FOR WEEKEND OF MAY 15

Washington, D.C. -- Appearances before the Young Democrats of America and the West Virginia Education Association, and a speech to the Tri-State Coal Association highlight the weekend schedule of U.S. Rep. Nick Rahall (D-WV).

Rahall will also be speaking to a group of C & P Telephone Co. employees in the Washington, D.C. area on Friday morning. "I will be making a pitch for West Virginia tourism opportunities to these employees," Rahall said. "They are within a reasonable drive to some of the most beautiful vacation spots in the country, all located in our great state. West Virginia has a great deal to offer a family planning a vacation and I intend to put in a big plug for them to spend their upcoming summer vacations in West Virginia."

Rahall has been very active legislatively in promoting West Virginia's many tourist attractions, particularly boating, canoeing, fishing, camping, hunting, and whitewater rafting.
