RAHALL ANNOUNCES MEETING LEADERS

WASHINGTON - In an effort to bring together members of the community to exchange ideas regarding the Constitution, U.S. Rep. Nick Rahall (D-W.Va.) is holding a Jefferson Meeting on the Constitution, Friday, October 2, in the Student Union of Bluefield State College.

Rahall today announced three distinguished Bluefield area residents who will be discussion leaders for the meeting. John W. Feuchtenberger-Bluefield City Attorney; Dr. Ron Burgher-Chairman, Division of Fine Arts at Concord College; and Dr. Stewart McGehee-Chairman, Bluefield Bicentennial Community Committee will lead the discussions centered around Judicial Accountability, Presidential Power, and the Term of Legislative Office.

Dr. James S. O'Hara, Academic Vice President at Bluefield State College has been chosen as plenary chairman of the meeting.

The Jefferson Meeting on the Constitution is being cosponsored by the Humanities Foundation of West Virginia and is scheduled for October 2. Registration forms and information are available at Rahall's Bluefield Office which is located in room 1005 of the Federal Building.
