WASHINGTON, D.C. -- U.S. Rep. Nick Rahall (D-W.Va.) announced today that the West Virginia Division of Environmental Protection will receive $186,712 in a federal grant for its Water Pollution Control Program for groundwater protection.

"I am pleased the State will be able to use these funds to assist in the protection of our groundwater resources. Our groundwater reserves are an integral part of our environment. We must protect it to preserve its usefulness in the future," said Rahall.
