MUNICIPAL BUILDING COMMISSION WILL BRING NEW ADDITIONS TO ADDISON

WASHINGTON, D.C. -- U.S. Rep Nick Rahall (D-WV) announced that the Rural Development Administration has approved a conditional commitment for a guaranteed loan of $380,000 for the Addison Municipal Building Commission in Webster County.

The Rural Development Administration's Business and Industry Loan Guarantee will be used by the Municipal Building Commission to acquire and renovate a building. The new structure will be home to the West Virginia Department of Health and Human Services, the Children's Home Society of West Virginia, Inc., an appliance store, and a tourist and information center.

"The guaranteed loan will bring vitality and growth to the town of Addison," Rahall said. "The new structure will provide a more pleasant work environment to employees, while providing greater services of all types to residents in the town of Addison and throughout Webster county," concluded Rahall.
