MARSHALL UNIVERSITY PULLS IN RESEARCH FUNDS

WASHINGTON, D.C. -- U.S. Rep. Nick Rahall (D-WV) today announced that Marshall University has received $83,866 in funds for research work from the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS).

The project, directed by Marshall professor Dr. Stephen Fish, concerns the "Evolution of Neurosensory Mechanisms."

"Marshall University's medical school is vastly becoming one of the finest medical institutions in the country," said Rahall. "It is opportunities like the one Dr. Fish is pursuing which help to further our institution while at the same time benefiting the entire medical community."
