WASHINGTON, D.C. -- Rep. Nick J. Rahall, (D-WV), announced today funds totaling $2,964,000 have been awarded for the construction of a new water system to serve Coalwood and Caretta, WV.

The Economic Development Administration and the Farmers Home Administration have earmarked $800,000 and $1,414,000, respectively, for this project.

"This $2.9 million project, which will be administered by the McDowell County Commission and the McDowell County Public Service District," remarked Rahall, "will assist in strengthening the area's infrastructure, resulting in a stronger economy and a higher quality of life."
