Dear Colleague:

The subject of natural gas policy has been described as one of the "most confusing subjects currently before the Congress." No aspect of the current energy debate has more immediate impact than the natural gas shortage.

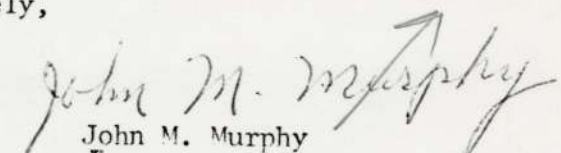

In order to broaden staff exposure to several facets of the problem we have scheduled a working session to enable interested Members, or their staff representatives, to engage in an exchange of views with a panel of authorities on natural gas. Among those attending will be agricultural and industrial gas users, a gas distributor, and an independent gas producer.

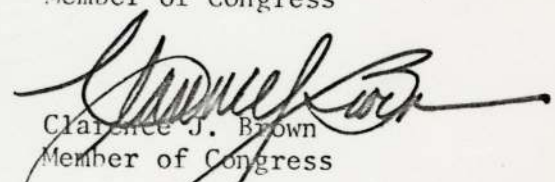

We would therefore like to invite you, or one of your staff members, to join us at 3:30 P.M. on Thursday, October 30th in 2226 Rayburn for what we believe will be an informative session.

Sincerely,

James T. Broyhill
