

MOTION OFFERED BY MR. DINGELL

The Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, taking into consideration the need to provide for an interim extension of pricing and allocation controls under the authority of the Emergency Petroleum Allocation Act of 1973 so as to permit an additional opportunity to seek and secure a Congressionally agreed-upon policy with respect to such controls and to provide for an additional attempt to reach compromise on such policy with the President of the United States, hereby resolves that the Chairman of the Committee take all appropriate steps, which may include the appearance before the Rules Committee of the House of Representatives to request action on the part of that Committee, so as to bring before the House at the earliest date a bill (which bill may be either a proposal originating in the House or in the Senate) for the purpose of obtaining an extension of that Act ~~for~~ ^{thru} ~~a period of not less than 45 days following the enactment of such~~ ^{OCT. 31-1975} extension.
