Dear Mr. Corley:

This will acknowledge your letter of recent date with reference to the present energy crisis.

From your communication, I note you feel mandatory allocations of gasoline should include public school transportation. You and yours may be assured I will continue my efforts toward the passage of fair and equitable legislation for all.

As you know, of course, the House and Senate did take action on the Energy Emergency Act during the last days of the First Session. In all probability, it will be one of the first items to be considered when the Second Session of the 93rd Congress convenes.

Again, thanking you for writing me and with best wishes, I am

Sincerely yours,

The Honorable Harley O. Staggers
House of Representatives
Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir:

It is imperative that any Federal regulations governing mandatory allocation of gasoline include public school transportation as a part of the public mass transportation program. A recent news release did not make the intent of these regulations clear in this regard. School Administrators of West Virginia strongly urge this be clarified in any such regulation and not be left to a variety of interpretations by individuals who must police these regulations.

Your consideration and support in this matter is earnestly solicited.

Sincerely,

Paul D. Corley
