

COPY

September 1, 1942

Honorable Guy P. Gannett
Kokadjo
Maine

My dear Mr. Gannett:

Although the Southerners have the reputation of excelling in hospitality, I am inclined to think that Maine has a brand that exceeds even the fame of the South. Never have Mrs. Kilgore and I enjoyed a visit so much as the time spent at your lodge. You simply cannot imagine what a delightful experience the restful beauty of your surroundings afforded us and we are deeply grateful to you.

Thanking you again and again for your gracious entertainment, I am, with kindest regards,

Most sincerely yours,

om