Dear Sir:

In accordance with instructions contained in your letter dated December 23, 1942, the new concrete reservoir at this Station has been thoroughly inspected.

The reservoir was found to be in perfect condition. There were no signs of leakage and no cracks or other imperfections. The concrete is extremely hard, requiring a severe blow to make any indentation and presents a very good appearance. The interior walls of the reservoir completely dried out over night and the only moisture was in the form of drops of condensation on the ceiling. The Triple Seal waterproofing is believed to be satisfactory in every respect.

Very truly yours,

/s/ John A. Hadley
